Preface

Government Publications are of immense importance to persons engaged in research in universities, trade and industry. These publications provide basic primary data and official information relating to all fields of activities i.e. educational, scientific, political of our country.

Government Publications, however create multidimensional problems in their bibliographical identification, citation, listing and procurement. These are normally released by the Manager of Publications for sale. This catalogue will be of help to know about the publications published by various Ministries, Depts., Directorates, Commission etc.

We have been supplying government publications of central and state governments to important libraries for the last 20 years. We have made extermely efficient arrangement for procuring government documents as soon as these are released for sale by the Manager of Publications. It is an know about the uphill task for individuals and libraries to procure these publications. The trade channels make the task of individuals and libraries easy. With this back ground and experience at on back, we have compiled the list of Government publications in print from 1980 onwords to facilitate selection and ordering by libraries. The list also includes publications published before 1980 but released for sale in 1980. These have been arranged ministrywise, and under each group. The table of contents has been arranged alphabetically by the name of the ministry and under each Ministry, publications are arranged according to its sub-offices, Departments, Directorates, Bureaus, etc. An alphabetical titlewise index has been provided to facilitate quick identification and location.

It is hoped that individuals and libraries will find this catalogue useful and helpful for selecting and ordering government publications.

Through, we have tried our best to avoid the mistakes either in the entry or in the proof, but by chance if there occures any, the readers will bear with us, being our first attempt.

We would welcome suggestions if any for the improvements of the catalogue for the future edition.

Introduction

Government publications have its own utility and importance as far as its publicity is concerned. It is very vide in scope and have no boundary. The contents of the material published are useful for all readers, scholars, academicians, politicians, scientists, technologist, business men and to all others who are engaged in different sphere of activities.

In British regime, the scope of the Government publications were limited to Acts, Rules, Reports, Manuals and Gazetteers. The purpose was also limited for historical record and publicity media.

The role of Government publications after independence expanded much more and achieved much relevance in all spheres. The Government constructs Planning Programmes, National policies, Social and Economic uplift standards, Specifications, Codification, Law, Rules, Statistical Information for production, distribution, trade and commerce and to bring to the notice of the public about the Government activities, its measures, policies, and its implimentation, government targets and actions. For these purpose each government publication is useful and important particularly to those who have to work upon the various activities corporate, Government and Semi-Government organizations and Institutions, Educationists, Political and Social Leaders, Scientists, Technicians, business men.

After independence, all Libraries and Government departments are very keen in having these sources of information and data from authentic body viz. Government and its Ministeries and sub-offices.

Government of India is publishing various information, data, policies, etc. in different forms like Journals, Reports, Census documents, Almances, Year-book, etc. having vide coverage on different aspects and publish these information through various Ministries, Bureaus, and Departments, Government and Semi-Government Councils, Centres, Institutions etc.

To keep track over the Government publications is very difficult task. One must require a careful approach, constant touch and continuity. It is only possible, then for him to known which are the publication are published by which Ministries/Depts.

Compilation of this publication is a great difficult task which the publisher of this book M/s. BOOKWELL has taken on hand. Though primarily he is a government bookseller, but his efforts in this direction is very much praisable. Mr. Khurana has laboured day and night for gathering the information sources for compiling this catalogue namely Governments Books in Print

He has shown us the press copy and asked for our opinion. As far as we are concerned, looking to his coverage, arrangement, bibliographic information and ministry-wise approach impressed us. It is not only useful to a group of persons, but those who are engaged in different fields of works and to refer the government publication including scholars, researchers, business executives and also to librarians and booksellers, We hope that his efforts in this direction will definitely help us.

It is a known fact that, the government publication is a reliable source of information and up- to-date in facts and figures, on practically every subject of current interest, is really an inexpensive tool.

In this publication, there are about 2500 entries grouped under various ministries and their attached Departments and Directorates.

We hope this publication will give a first-aid help in search and research to all those who are engaged in various field of activities.

We are appreciating his venture in this direction. He is further planning to make this publication up- to-date and wishes to revise and incorporate new publications every year. We take this opportunity to thank him for calling on us to write about it.

We wish all success.
